

We will watch There Will Be Blood (alternative will be addressed if you are uncomfortable with an R rated movie)

Pay specific attention to:

- Conflict roots, Conflict development, conflict escalation
- Characters' strengths/weaknesses create and resolve conflicts

Movie is being presented to emphasize methods of conflict development. NOT what conflict the conflict is.

Address points from your CONFLICT NOTES. Options are listed below

- exploitation of character flaws
- character change
- character decisions.
- characters going out of their way to exacerbate the conflict
- Individual Konflikt Ceys

When movie is complete, authors must complete a plot map (partner if needed). Identify all parts of the map. Pay special attention to the complications. These minor conflicts will be beneficial for your identification of CONFLICT DEVELOPMENT METHODS.

The young authors of room 248 must identify how (not what or where it is) the author developed the conflict in a standard 5 paragraph essay. I would like you to identify:

- Three of the techniques used—each technique should be its own paragraph
- Example of technique—evidence and connect
- Its impact on the conflict

Typed due 3 days after end of film
